Informally, a manifold is a space that is "modeled on" Euclidean space.. There are many different kinds of manifolds, depending on the context. In geometry and topology, all manifolds are topological manifolds, possibly with additional structure, such as a differentiable structure. A manifold can be constructed by giving a collection of coordinate charts, that is a covering by open sets with ...

In mathematics, mathematical physics and the theory of stochastic processes, a harmonic function is a twice continuously differentiable function $f : U \rightarrow \mathbb{R}$ where U is an open subset of \mathbb{R}^n that satisfies Laplace's equation, i.e. $\Delta f = 0$, everywhere on U . This is usually written as $\Delta f = 0$ or =

Of the countless number of texts entitled "Advanced Calculus", this is probably the most mathematically rigorous and challenging. Despite the title, this is a classic textbook written by two of the 20th century's preeminent mathematicians on the topic of abstract analysis in Banach spaces and the calculus of differentiable manifolds.
